

A Single-channel actuator with 'quick-blip'.

During 'quick-blip', this segment is powered by the 'centering' microswitch.

Since this is the only command where this happens. it can be detected by a suitably positioned set of contacts and used to trigger a pulse to a sequential switch...